Public/Private Partnership Provides Customers Free Plants, Products and Other Discounts in May
San Juan Water District and Sierra Nursery partner during Water Awareness Month

Granite Bay, Calif. –San Juan Water District and Sierra Nursery are partnering together during the month of May to encourage customers to use water efficient plants and products in their landscapes by providing useful tips, discounts and rebates. Sierra Nursery is offering a different discount every weekend in May to customers who bring in the coupon available on the San Juan Water District Facebook page (facebook.com/SanJuanWaterDistrict) and website (sjwd.org).

“Landscape irrigation accounts for 70 percent of customer water use in the summer,” said San Juan Resource Analyst Vicki Sacksteder. “That’s why we reached out to Sierra Nursery to promote water efficient plants and products throughout Water Awareness Month and help our customers save money on their water bills and nursery purchases.”

“I would say almost 80 percent of plant problems are a result of overwatering,” said Janet Simkins, manager of Sierra Nursery. “We’re happy to be a part of the solution to our customer’s gardening needs by partnering with San Juan Water District to help our customers be more water efficient.”

Serving portions of Folsom, Granite Bay, Orangevale and Roseville, San Juan is excited to combine their water efficiency knowledge with the gardening expertise at Sierra Nursery. Rebates for installing irrigation systems, water efficient appliances and toilets are available to San Juan customers throughout the year.

Follow the San Juan Water District Facebook page to receive the following discounts at Sierra Nursery for water efficient products, to learn about available rebates and get water efficiency tips:

- May 1-2: 10% discount on drought tolerant plants
